

Use the table below to identify the sources you will use to answer your Little Big History research questions and annotate your sources by filling in the spaces with appropriate information.

Name of the source (your teacher will tell you your preferred format):
Main discipline (chemistry, geology, archaeology, history, astronomy, etc.):
Claim testers (What makes this a reliable source of information):
Annotation (What is the main argument, claim? How does this support your research questions?)
Threshold (Which threshold of complexity does this source describe?)	Page numbers to note (What page numbers provide particularly useful information?)
